the wires of the latter being of sufficient length to admit of the being used for sufficient distances within the room.

8 Some of the Branches complain that sufficient number of lights has not been put up in their Branches, and others that the lamps have not been put up in the proper position. The lights are all made to hang in the middle of the rooms in a line, and as the seats are all arranged near the walls, the light will be far away from the table. The Verandahs upper & lower may be provided with lights at convenient distances. The room now occupied by the Registrar was not for a Table Lamp arrangement. The lights in lieu of the branches have to be requested. The question of giving fan connection to the branches deserves consideration.
